A Book in a Jar Competition

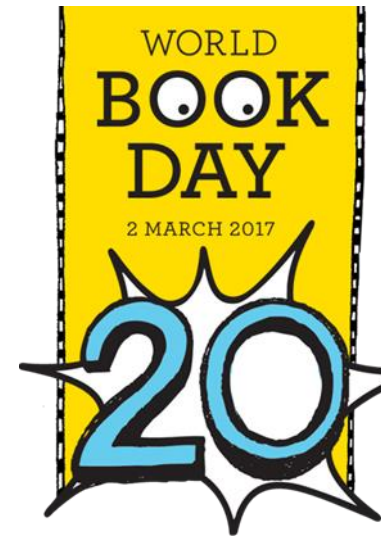

- To celebrate World Book Day in March, the English Department are inviting students to think about how their favourite book, or a book important to them, could be represented in a simple jar.
- There will be two prizes: the best entry in Key Stage 3 and the best entry in Key Stage 4.

Who can enter?

You!

We are expecting some incredibly creative entries that will go on display in the school library, in order to offer inspiration on future 'reads' for other students.

Here is just a selection of the type of entries we expect:

The Diary of Ann Frank

Doctor Who: Silhouette by Justin Richards

Gangster Granny by David Walliams

The Secret Garden
by Frances
Hodgson Burnett

Diary of a Wimpy Kid
By Jeff Kinney

Billionaire Boy
by David Walliams

Shadow the Sheepdog
By Enid Blyton

Instructions:

- Find a clean jar with a lid.
- Decide which book to use.
- Find pictures, models, small things which represent the book.
- Put the book's title and author on the jar.
- Put a label with your name and form on the jar.
- Ta Da! Done! Bring it to Mrs Wetton, room 74, before Thursday, March 14th.
